OPERATION COLOGNE

You vs. Train" is a campaign which builds on our work to get the rail safety message across to children and young people, especially during the school holidays when more youngsters risk their lives by trespassing on the train lines, unaware of the dangers.

At the heart of the campaign is the story of Tom Hubbard – a young boy who suffered life-changing injuries in 2014 when he was electrocuted by overhead power cables. Tom suffered third degree burns across 57% of his body and has been dealing with the serious physical and psychological consequences ever since.

An additional film, titled 'Parallel Lines', shows the impact of trespass on the wider community. It reminds young people that, even if they're lucky enough to escape uninjured, their actions have consequences.

How can you support you vs. Train?

The campaign includes a website, graphics and a consistent set of messages used by all partners for maximum impact in order to raise awareness of the dangers of the railway environment and reduce trespass incidents.

Your sponsored Police Community Support Officers will be carrying out increased hi-visibility, targeted patrols at hotspots locations to detect, deter, and prevent lineside trespass, graffiti, and crime.

If you witness suspicious activity in and around the rail network, please contact us on 101 or report online at www.northants.police.uk. In an emergency, always call 999.

You hold the key to your security

Did you know that 25% of burglaries in Northamptonshire happen because burglars get in through an unlocked door or window?

Operation Crooked is Northamptonshire Police's campaign to tackle residential burglaries.

In the past two years we have reduced burglaries across the county by 47%.

But burglaries are still happening and we need your help.

"Let me be clear that the only thing that causes burglaries is burglars and our officers are doing everything they can to put these people behind bars, evidenced by the 47% reduction we have seen in the past two years. In an ideal world, having to consider crime prevention tools to stop your home from being broken into wouldn't be necessary but the reality is that there are shameless people out there who will look to burgle your house and steal items that you have worked hard to buy. However, research shows that burglars generally don't like to work too hard to get into someone's property, preferring to look for places they believe are an easy target. If I can give one piece of advice it would be not to give them an easy opportunity – an unlocked door or window for example"

Tips to prevent your home from being burgled

- Always close and lock windows and doors when leaving the property - even a small open window could entice a burglar
- Use window limiters to allow air in instead of keeping windows fully open, even when you're at home
- Keep car and house keys out of sight and away from windows and doors
- If you're in the garden, make sure windows and doors at the front of the property are secure
- Do not leave valuables on display through windows
- Ensure that any side entrance is secure, locked and not easy to climb over, even when someone is at home
- Keep bins away from windows when they're not being used as they can be used as a climbing aid for burglars
- Going on holiday? Make arrangements to make sure the house appears occupied whilst it's unoccupied. Put lights on a timer or ask a neighbour to come and pick up mail and draw curtains. Don't advertise being on holiday on social media

CCTV and doorbell footage often helps our detectives identify burglars. Sign up to Northamptonshire Neighbourhood Alert to register your property as having CCTV which could help us to detect crime in your area.

If you see any suspicious activity in your area, contact us on 101 or report it online at www.northants.police.uk/ro

Op Sceptre is Northamptonshire Police's campaign to tackle knife crime. While the vast majority of people don't carry knives or get involved with knife crime, we are working hard, with partner agencies, to tackle the knife crime offences that occur and to help prevent them from happening in the first place.

Knife crime is any crime that involves a knife whether it is used or not and some examples include:

- Carrying a knife
- Threatening someone with a knife
- Intending to hurt someone with a knife
- Using a knife to injure or kill someone
- Thieves carrying knives during a robbery or burglary
- The involvement of a knife or knives in gang-related offences
- Someone under 18 trying to buy a knife

The idea that carrying a knife for protection is not a good one. It could end up being used against you potentially causing you a serious injury or even death and you could end up doing the same to someone else. If you don't carry a knife these things can't happen in the first place and you, and those around you, are safer.

Even carrying a knife in a public place can result in a maximum prison sentence of four years, depending on the circumstances, and there is a minimum sentence of six months if you are found carrying one more than once. Getting a criminal record can affect the rest of your life, from job prospects to travelling to certain countries.

People who use a knife to injure someone face long prison sentences - ultimately life sentences for murder and in some Section 18 GBH offences. Also, people who are present when someone is injured or killed by a knife by someone else can be prosecuted and potentially be sent to prison for murder - this is called 'joint enterprise'.

It's just not worth it!

If you are worried about someone you know carrying a knife, want to talk to someone about knife crime or ask advice please call 101 - always call 999 in an emergency such as when a crime is in progress and/or someone is in immediate danger. Calling with information about knife crime may feel hard, but there are harder calls. If you have information about knife crime, you don't have to call the police. With our 100% anonymity guaranteed, you can speak up with confidence that no one else will know, call Crimestoppers 0800 555 111

Modern Day Slavery - Northamptonshire Police has today (Thursday, June 17) launched a major campaign to raise awareness of modern slavery, with the help of funding from Northamptonshire's Office of the Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner.

The powerful campaign includes a 60-second animation and a suite of powerful visuals and messages, aiming to raise awareness of what are a growing problem. It encourages people to look beyond a seemingly 'normal' situation to see the real person and their potential predicament.

The strapline "it's probably nothing, but..." has been chosen to 'nudge' people into reporting signs – however insignificant they seem. The information provided could be the missing piece of the jigsaw which enables officers to take swift action to safeguard victims and bring offenders to justice.

<https://www.northants.police.uk/.../june-21/its-probably-not.../>

For further information about spotting the signs of modern day slavery, visit www.northantspolice/modernslavery. If you suspect modern day slavery or have concerns about a vulnerable person, please call 101. Alternatively you can direct your call anonymously via the Modern Slavery Helpline on 08000 121 700 or Crimestoppers, in confidence, on 0800 111 555.
